DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Eyer et al. (US 6,588,015 B1).

Regarding claims 1, 12, and 13, Eyer teaches a method of providing a service to a user, the method comprising:

upon payment of a first fee by the user (col. 15, lines 63-65; col. 16, lines 23-25; col. 17, lines 13-15), transmitting a content information (audio and/or video multimedia programming that is not a commercial/advertisement) comprising a commercial information to a device 200 (fig. 2) of the user (col. 1, line 66-col.2, line 6; col. 2, lines 36-39), the device being configured to enable to skip any portion of the content information (col. 15, lines 17-18; col. 7, line 50- col. 8, line 12; col. 16, lines 41-42); and, upon payment of an additional fee by the user (user pays for commercial free service, e.g., service class 1 or 2), enabling the device of the user to automatically skip the commercial information when playing out the content information (col. 18, line 54col. 19, line 45; Table 1; col. 16, lines 41-42).

Regarding claim 2, Eyer teaches enabling the device to remove (not present to the user, i.e., skip) the commercial information when recording (buffering) the content information (fig. 3, step 310, 340, 360, 370).

Regarding claims 3 and 4, Eyer teaches transmitting a signal (1045, 1065 – fig. 10) representative of a temporal occurrence of the commercial information (col. 6, lines 1-3, lines 30-32); and, enabling the device to interrupt a recording of the content information during the commercial information based on the signal (col. 19, line 20; col. 19, lines 27-29).

Regarding claim 5, Eyer teaches the device is enabled to automatically jump Over (skip) the commercial information when playing out a recorded version of the content information (col. 16, lines 30-32; Table 1, service class 1 and 2; in which “commercial free” reads on auto jumping/skipping over any commercial live or replayed).

Regarding claim 6, Eyer teaches enabling the user to inactivate the automatic skipping of the commercial information (col. 16, lines 26-27; col. 16, lines 41-45; col. 19, lines 18-20).

Regarding claim 7, Eyer teaches charging the additional fee for each automatic skipping (metered skipping) of the commercial information (col. 17, lines 47-49).

Regarding claims 8-11, Eyer teaches broadcasting/streaming (transmitting the multimedia programming data) the content information (col. 5, lines 46-50; col. 2, lines 12-15; col. 2, line 66-col. 3, line 2; col. 5, line 14).
